- Between 11 and 16 January 1951, flights were made at the Brandenburg-Briest (N 53/2 13) airfield although the cloud base was low and it rained occasionally. On 11 January, between 10 a.m. and 1:30 p.m., jet fighters with swept-back wings made individual flights which lasted approximately 30 minutes. *
- On 12 and 15 January, between 6 and 10 p.m., searchlight drill was held although no aircraft were in the air.
- One jet fighter landed at the field at noon on 16 January. It came from the southwest. The plane was of a different type and apparently larger than the jet fighters with swept-back wings. Its wings were straight and the air intake was in the nose. **

- * Comment. The report does not indicate the aircraft strength but is confirmation that the field was occupied by jet aircraft.
- the field is occupied by one fighter regiment.
-  Comment. The plane is probably a type 16 jet aircraft. This type plane appears to be larger than the Mig-15 because of the straight wings.
